

- 1 requires uni-directional movement on input crank
- 2 linkage "locks" lens in "in" position and does not require an additional detent
- 3 pin joints are rugged
- 4 inexpensive